OVERVIEW

The content role of Social media has extended the application of law to a more virtual and meta-level framework. This had inevitably led to an increase in concern and focus in balancing the need for free speech and the law. Currently social media sites such as Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, RSS, Linked-In have raised concerns on privacy, defamation, copyright and associated legal issues.

This Talk will address the legal problems and management concerned and discuss the following:

- Internet blogging – Internet defamation – Copyright – Computer Crimes – Identity Theft
- Use and benefits of social media for lawyers i.e. Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, RSS, etc.
